

Olsen House School

We are an independent specialist day school situated in the heart of the community in Sefton with excellent travel links across Merseyside. The building is bright and welcoming with a variety of different learning spaces indoors and outdoors. Children and young people from diverse backgrounds come to the school because they cannot continue in mainstream education for various reasons.

Our school provides a safe learning environment for children with social, emotional and mental health (SEMH) with associated needs including attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), autism (ASC) and moderate and specific learning difficulties (LD).

The school boasts two distinct environments tailored to meet the needs of both the primary and secondary age pupils. The main school caters for pupils aged 11-16 and operates through a secondary school model, where pupils move from one classroom to another for their subject lessons. The other bespoke environment, The Bluebird Centre meets the needs of those aged from 9 - 16 on the autism spectrum and who benefit from being primarily based in one classroom.

The school aims to prepare children and young people for the future through a modern curriculum that meets their individual needs and provides a nurturing environment where every young person is valued and supported.

To maximise opportunities for children and young people at Olsen House School education and support are provided in very small class sizes. The school follows the National Curriculum, but personalised modifications are made to individual timetables where appropriate.

Children and young people enjoy studying for a wide range of qualifications including Functional skills, GCSE's and BTEC, there is also a high emphasis on learning outside the classroom e.g. Duke of Edinburgh.
